* Seven Judges of the Court of Session hold separate commissions as Lords Commissioners of Justiciary or Supreme Criminal Tribunal, of Scotland. The jurisdiction of this Court, which extends over the whole of Scotland in criminal matters, including suspensions of judgments of inferior courts, extends also on circuit to appeals in civil cases involving such pecuniary amounts, but frequently having reference to important questions of right.

The Lord President of the Court of Session and the President of the Second Division, as Lord Justice General and Lord Justice Clerk respectively, are the two Chief Judges of the Court of Justiciary; and, of the other Judges, whose names are given above, Lords Deas and Mure to the Inner, and Lords Young, Craighill, and Adam to the Outer House, are Judges of the Court of Justiciary.

The six Chamber business of the Court of Session is, during vacation and recess, performed by those Judges who are not also Judges of Justiciary, each Judge being engaged for a fortnight on this duty in rotation during vacation. Although a sum in lieu of expenses on circuit is allowed, no separate salary is attached to any judgeship of the Court of Justiciary. The amounts stated above, therefore, represent the judicial salaries of the Supreme Civil and Criminal Courts of Scotland.
